Tone 7

GREAT VESPERS - SATURDAY EVENING

DEACON: Bless, Father.

PRIEST: Blessed is our God always now and ever and unto ages of ages.

PEOPLE: Amen.

“Come Let Us Worship...”

Psalm 104

Bless the Lord, O my soul! O Lord You are very great: / You are clothed with honor and majesty, / Who cover Yourself with light as with a garment, / Who stretch out the heavens like a curtain.

He lays the beams of His upper chambers in the waters, / Who makes the clouds His chariot, / Who walks on the wings of the wind, / Who makes His angels spirits, His ministers a flame of fire.

You Who laid the foundations of the earth, / so that it should not be moved forever, / You covered it with the deep as with a garment; / the waters stood above the mountains.

At Your rebuke they fled; / at the voice of Your thunder they hastened away. / They went up over the mountains; they went down into the valleys, / to the place which You founded for them.

You have set a boundary that they may not pass over, / that they may not return to cover the earth. / He sends the springs into the valleys, / which flow among the hills.

They give drink to every beast of the field; / the wild donkeys quench their thirst. / By them the birds of the heavens have their habitation; / they sing among the branches.

He waters the hills from His upper chambers; / the earth is satisfied with the fruit of Your works.

He causes the grass to grow for the cattle, / and vegetation for the service of man, / that he may bring forth food from the earth, / and wine that makes glad the heart of man, oil to make his face shine, / and bread which strengthens man's heart.

The trees of the Lord are full of sap, / the cedars of Lebanon which He planted, / where the birds make their nests; / the stork has her home in the fir trees.

The high hills are for the wild goats; / the cliffs are a refuge for the rock badgers.

He appointed the moon for the seasons; / the sun know its going down. /

You made darkness, and it is night, / in which all the beasts of the forest creep about.

The young lions roar after their prey, / and seek their food from God. / When the sun arises, they gather together / and lie down in their dens.

Man goes out to his work / and to his labor until the evening. / O Lord, how manifold are Your works! / In wisdom You have made them all.

The earth is full of Your possessions / – this great and wide sea, / in which are innumerable teeming things, / living things both small and great.

There the ships sail about and there is that Leviathan / which You have made to play there. / These all wait for You, / that You may give them their food in due season.

What You give them they gather in; / You open Your hand, they are filled with good. / You hide Your face, they are troubled; / You take away their breath, they die and return to their dust.

You send forth Your Spirit, they are created; / and You renew the face of the earth. / May the glory of the Lord endure forever; / may the Lord rejoice in His works.

He looks on the earth, and it trembles; / He touches the hills, and they smoke.

I will sing to the Lord as long as I live; / I will sing praise to my God while I have my being. / May my meditation be sweet to Him; / I will be glad in the Lord.

May sinners be consumed from the earth, / and the wicked be no more. / Bless the Lord, O my soul! / Praise the Lord!

The sun knows its going down. / You make darkness and it is night. / O Lord, how manifold are Your works! / In wisdom You have made them all.

READER: Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

PEOPLE: Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia. Glory to You, O God. (3x)

O our God and our hope, glory to You!

“O Lord, I Cry...” – Tone 5

Opening Psalm Verses - Psalm 141:1, 2 (LXX 140)

O Lord, I cry out unto You, hear me! Hear me, O Lord. O Lord, I cry out to You, hear me. Give ear to my voice when I cry out, when I cry out to You. Hear me, O Lord.

Let my prayer be set forth before You as incense, and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice. Hear me, O Lord.

Set a guard, O Lord over my mouth; keep watch o'er the door of my lips.

Do not incline my heart to any evil thing, to practice wicked works with men who work iniquity; and do not let me eat of their delicacies.

Let the righteous strike me; it shall be a kindness, and let him reprove me; it shall be as excellent oil. Let not my head refuse it, for still my prayer is against the deeds of the wicked.

Their judges are overthrown by the sides of the cliff and they hear my words for they are sweet. Our bones are scattered at the mouth of the grave, as when one plows and breaks up the earth.

But my eyes are upon You, O God the Lord; in You I take refuge; do not leave my soul destitute.

Keep me from the snares which they have laid for me, and from the traps of the workers of iniquity. Let the wicked fall into their own nets, while I escape safely.

Psalm 142 (LXX 141)

I cry out to the Lord with my voice; with my voice to the Lord I make my supplication.

I pour out my complaint before Him; I declare before Him my trouble.

When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then You knew my path. In a way in which I walk they have secretly set a snare for me.

Look on my right hand and see, for there is no one who acknowledges me; refuge has failed me; no one cares for my soul.

I cried out to You, O Lord. I said, "You are my refuge, my portion in the land of the living.

Attend to my cry, for I am brought very low; deliver me from my persecutors for they are stronger than I."

Bring my soul out of prison, that I may praise Your name.

(Tone 7) – Resurrection

Come, let us rejoice in the Lord Who destroyed the dominion of death. Let us sing to Him with the bodiless hosts, for He enlightened the human race. O our Maker and Savior, glory to You!

You endured the Cross and burial for our sake. By Your death, You destroyed death as God. We fall down before Your Resurrection on the third day. O Savior, glory to You!

Psalm 130 (LXX 129)

When the apostles beheld the Resurrection of the Maker, they were amazed and sang the angelic praise: This is the glory of the Church! This is the richness of the Kingdom! O Lord, crucified for our sake, glory to You!

You were held by lawless men, O Christ, but to me, You are God and I am not ashamed. You were smitten on the cheek, but I do not deny You. You were nailed to the Cross and I do not conceal it. For I glory in Your Resurrection, Your death is my life. O almighty Lord and Lover of mankind, glory to You!

Fulfilling the prophecy of David, Christ manifested His greatness in Zion to the disciples. He is praised and always glorified together with the Father and the Holy Spirit. At first, as the Word He was bodiless, but then He took flesh and was slain for our sake. He rose in power as the Lover of mankind!

You descended into hell as You freely willed, O Christ, overthrowing death as God and rising on the third day as Master. With Yourself You raised Adam from the bonds of hell and from corruption. Glory to Your Resurrection, O only Lover of mankind!

You were placed in the tomb, O Lord, as one asleep. On the third day You rose in power, raising Adam with Yourself from the corruption of death as the almighty One!

(Tone 4) – Saints

We honor the Elder Isaac with Saint Dalmatos and his son, Faustus, who made themselves like the bodiless ones, for by fasting and prayer, they dominated the bodily passions brilliantly illuminating the hearts of all. Through their prayers grant Your people peace and great mercy.

Psalm 117 (LXX 116)

O, praise the Lord, all you Gentiles! Laud Him, all you peoples!

Dalmatos and Isaac, armed with the confidence and zeal of virtue, overcame the heresy of Arius and Nestorius. They won universal glory by fighting on the side of Orthodoxy. Through their prayers grant Your people peace and great mercy.

For His merciful kindness is great toward us, and the truth of the Lord endures forever.

Having appeared in the firmament of asceticism, O venerable Elder Isaac and Dalmatos with your son Faustus, you shone upon the souls of monks like resplendent stars, driving away the darkness of the demons. After your death, we all call you blessed. Ceaselessly intercede for the salvation of all who celebrate your memory in faith.

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

(Tone 3) – Resurrection

O Lady of exceeding honor, how can we but wonder at your giving birth to God incarnate. For you, O all-blameless, not knowing a man, gave birth in the flesh to a Son without father, Who before all eternity was begotten of the Father without mother. He underwent no mingling, no change, no division, but preserved the fullness of each nature. Wherefore, O Virgin Mother, beseech Him to save the souls of those who in an Orthodox manner confess that you are the Theotokos.

An Excerpt from the Seventh Prayer

PRIEST: O Master, Bestower of all good things, may we, being moved to compunction on our beds, call to remembrance Your holy name in the night, that enlightened by meditation on Your commandments, we may rise in joyfulness of soul to glorify Your goodness, offering up prayers and supplications to Your tender love for our own sins and for those of all Your people, whom You visit in mercy, through the intercessions of the holy Theotokos.

For You are a good God and love mankind, and unto You we ascribe glory: to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and unto ages of ages.

PEOPLE: Amen.

PRIEST: Peace be to all.

PEOPLE: And to your spirit.

The Prayer with Heads Bowed

DEACON: Let us bow our heads to the Lord.

PEOPLE: To You, O Lord.

PRIEST: O Lord, our God, Who bowed the heavens and came down for the salvation of mankind, look upon Your servants and Your inheritance; for to You, the fearful Judge, Who love mankind, have Your servants bowed their heads, and submissively inclined their necks, not awaiting help from men, but entreating Your mercy and looking confidently for Your salvation. Guard them at all times, both during this present evening and in the approaching night, from every enemy, from all adverse powers of the devil, and from vain thoughts and evil imaginations.

Blessed and glorified be the might of Your kingdom: of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and unto ages of ages.

PEOPLE: Amen.

Aposticha: Tone 7

As the Savior of the world You arose from the tomb!
As God You resurrected the race of men with Your flesh. *
O Lord, glory to You.

The Lord is King, He is clothed with majesty. The Lord is clothed with strength and has girded Himself.

Come, let us worship the One Who rose from the dead and enlightened all creation!
By His death He saved us from the torments of hell. *
By His Resurrection He has granted us eternal life and great mercy.

For He established the world which shall not be shaken.

You descended into hell, capturing death, O Christ.
And in three days You rose again,
resurrecting us who glorify Your Resurrection, *
O Lord and Lover of mankind.

Holiness adorns Your house, O Lord, forever.

When You were placed in the tomb as one asleep,
the sight was great and awesome.
But when You rose on the third day as Almighty God, *
You resurrected Adam with Yourself.
Glory to Your Resurrection, *
O only Lover of mankind.

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

All the earth-born run to your protection, O Lady!
You are our hope, O Theotokos.
Deliver us from our countless sins *
and pray that our souls may be saved.

Hymn of St. Simeon

Lord, now you are letting Your servant depart in peace, according to Your word, for my eyes have seen Your salvation which You have prepared before people Israel.
